Mattapoisett Land Trust Receives MVP Grant

Pine Island Pond Watershed Protection

By Marilou Newell

The Mattapoisett Land Trust (MLT) scored when they applied for and received a Municipal Vulnerability Preparedness grant. The $960,000 grant is one of the largest distributed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs.

The department's website notes that, "The Municipal Vulnerability Preparedness grant program (MVP) provides support for cities and towns in Massachusetts to begin the process of planning for climate change resiliency and implementing priority projects. The state awards communities with funding to complete vulnerability assessments and develop action-oriented resiliency plans. Communities who complete the MVP program become certified as an MVP community and are eligible for MVP Action grant funding and other opportunities."

Locally, no one was happier than the president of the MLT, Mike Huguenin. Huguenin has been banging the gong on the importance of preserving the 120 acre site for nearly two years. Along with MLT members Gary Johnson, Alice McGarth, Joanna Dresser, and Peter Davies, Huguenin worked long and hard to make the townspeople appreciate the importance of protecting these tender resource lands while negotiating with the landowners.

When town administrator Mike Gagne became aware of the MLT's plans to try and purchase the acreage for permanent conservation, he was all in. Gagne is well-known for his work in assisting organizations with environmental issues from preserving lands for passive recreation, to preserving fresh water sources, to engaging the necessary legal assets to ensure conservation commission conditions are upheld. He was recognized this past May by the Buzzards Bay Coalition when they awarded him with a Guardian Award for his work on behalf of land conservation, wetlands protection, and regional environmental cooperation. Given his experience, Gagne rolled up his sleeves and jumped into the Pine Island Watershed project noting the importance of protecting the acreage from development due to its potential as a way for residents of the coastal neighborhood to evacuate the area in the event of a major storm and in recognition of raising sea levels that will one

The state fund awarded to MLT, $960,000, will go towards the acquisition of over 100 acres of prime woodlands, wetlands, and wildlife habitat from private owners while protecting the significant acreage from future development. MLT will need to complete the purchase price of approximately $1.2 million through fundraising and donations. Photos courtesy of the Mattapoisett Land Trust* day eliminate existing roadways to homes in that area.

Gagne, along with the MLT, also believed in the importance of giving the public better access to Pine Island Pond, an area for shellfish harvesting and non-motorized watercraft recreating. With this acquisition there would be a nearly unbroken natural corridor from Route 6 to the shore.

But its not quite time for celebrating as Huguenin is well aware. When The Wanderer caught up with him, he was still breathless from the good news, but cognizant of the work ahead. "It's really great news ... and the project is just so great ..." but there is still another $150,000 that needs to be secured, he quickly added. To try and accomplish this, Huguenin will be attending the annual meetings of beach communities that will be positively impacted by having an alternate evacuation route through uplands along the watershed parcels. "The challenge now is to raise private funds," he shared. He said that even small donations add up, and he believes those small contributions give the MLT a morale boost because "it shows the community is behind this."

Gagne told The Wanderer, "I'm delighted, this is a tremendous achievement; just fantastic!" He said that by granting such a large amount to the MLT for this acquisition, it demonstrated the Commonwealth's understanding of the importance of the acreage. "They saw how vulnerable the area is especially given sea level rise," he said.

The MLT Facebook page also contained this notification: "The town and state have given the Pine Island Watershed project a tremendous vote of confidence, and provided over $1.2 million of the $1.5 million needed to complete the acquisition. Now private citizens need to finish the job, and I'm happy to report that Mattapoisett Land Trust already has raised approximately half of the final $300,000 needed. We will continue our outreach to everyone who loves the Pine Island area, and hope to complete final fundraising this summer."

for the dark lines along its side by sportsmen, prefers a water temperature from 55 degrees to 68 degrees. To stay in this range, they migrate both in spring and fall. With the arrival of summer, the spring migration is all but complete in Buzzards Bay, having started more than a month ago from distant winter quarters down south. They soon pass up along the coastlines of North Carolina and Virginia, where they then detour into the Chesapeake Bay, and finally the Delaware, Hudson, and Connecticut Rivers to spawn.

The stripers are labeled anadromous by spawning in brackish or fresh water. After spawning, they school up into moving formation, as in my illustration. They head up along the Atlantic coast to eventually pass through the Cape Cod Canal into Massachusetts Bay toward northern New England for the summer.

Sport fishing for stripers is very popular, and they are the state fish in Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire. Their natural history dates back to colonial days of gratitude for their legions swimming up coastal rivers with alewives and shad. They were seen as a godsend to hungry settlers and famished troops at Valley Forge. However, annual overfishing took place into the start of the last century, and now several hundred years later, the numbers have sadly declined to a mere 5 million stripers.

In 1982, Atlantic States Marine Fisheries reacted by making them a protected game fish and imposed the current 29-inch keeper requirement. Fortunately, a ban was also imposed prohibiting harvesting beyond the 3-mile coastal limit. Within just 10 years, the population was remarkably back to 56 million, with about 3.8 million annually taken for sport fishing.

The largest striped bass ever taken on light tackle was 81 pounds and 4 feet in length. The striped bass has a mild, but firm flavorful flesh with a large flake when eaten. It is popular when pan seared, steamed, poached, sautéed, or roasted, but especially when grilled outdoors, making it a gourmet ritual in coastal communities like Buzzards Bay. Commercial demand is so much that they have been hybridized with a commercial common white bass, known as a wiper. It was stocked experimentally in lakes and rivers across the country. Once inland, natural population could be verified as successfully landlocked. However, an observable diminution of spawning activity meant that regular reproduction levels must be stocked by hatcheries.

The fall migration of stripers south will not begin for another two months. As in the 1950's end of summer popular song "... the days get short when you reach September," we will then witness a seasonal ebb tide motion of migrating songbirds, waterfowl, ospreys, hummingbirds, and butterflies. This movement will also be shadowed underwater by stripers on the move. As the water cools, they are anxious to fatten up on baitfish such as peanut bunkers and silversides. We look for gulls diving down on blitzing bait pods that come in with a rising tide. Striper fall migration extends into late October and from our window on Little Bay, it is a very entertaining seasonal curtain call of a stripe bass migration performance.

Second Walking Tour Highlights the People

Healthy Tri-Town Coalition

By Marilou Newell

The second of three walking tours planned for each of the Tri-Towns stepped off from the Mattapoisett Historical Museum (MHM) on June 23 under splendid summer skies. The Healthy Tri-Town Coalition, along with the historical societies in Rochester, Marion, and Mattapoisett, planned the walks as a way to connect people with the history of the communities and with one another.

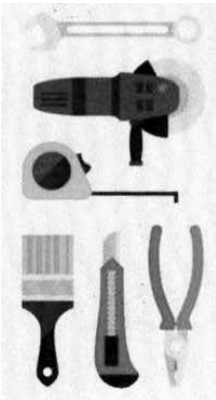

Mattapoisett's tour guide was none other than Jennifer McIntire, president of the MHM and longtime local resident. Assisting McIntire was Carole Clifford, a real local, whose wealth of antidotal information gave the tour a deeper connection to the town's history.

Starting at the museum, McIntire told a group of about 25 people that Mattapoisett and Marion were once part of Rochester, making it a much larger settlement throughout the 1600's until the split occurred in 1857. First Marion's townspeople choose independence, which was followed by Mattapoisett's. Mattapoisett was a thriving economic hub in the region with vital shipbuilding and saltworks industries along its shore. Clifford said that Rochester's town fathers were "loathed to let Mattapoisett go" because of the commerce it generated.

McIntire said that the museum had once been a Baptist Church and that today, while still an active church holding one service each year, it is now a gallery space for the historical museum. The museum was inspired by a collection of local materials from the Dexter family. Around 1958, a trust was established by Minerva Sparrow, Francis Rowlands, and Charles Mendell, thus setting up the church and the collection into a museum that has grown substantially over the decades. The museum is now recognized as a significant source of local and regional history. Its database holds tens of thousands of pieces of information and its collection is being studied by those interested in early American history.

Pointing towards the Town Hall situated at the corner of Main and Church Street, a half block to the south, McIntire said that the building had once housed the police and the fire department. At one point, town meetings were held in the second story community room and that today the center of the town is located in its coastal village.

But that was not always the case. Clifford said that the original center of the town was north of where Route 6 currently cuts through the community. She said that at the intersection of River Road and Acushnet Road, again imagining this before the state highway, was where the center had been located. Farmlands flourished, saw mills and grist mills supported many local businesses, woodlands provided raw materials; yet, the harbor became, over time, the center of life.

But first the lands had to be obtained from the original inhabitants the indigenous people, the Wampanoags. King Philip's War, which took place in the 17th century, was also known as Metacom's War. It was a conflict between English colonists and the Native Americans in their last major effort to keep the Colonists from taking over completely. The end of that story is well known. Less known may be that the Colonists were offered free land once the Native American's had been vanquished. McIntire said only three families took that opportunity to own land. They were the Hammonds, Dexters, and Boyles.

Meandering along Main Street towards the wharves, McIntire stopped in front of 14 Main Street where the walking group learned that the building had been the second location of the Anchorage By the Sea - a tea room. The first such business had been located where Shipyard Park is today. But the hurricane of 1938 destroyed it along with many other structures. Clifford said that during those days mass communication did not exist; therefore, no one knew a massive hurricane had the southeast in its crosshairs. "My mother was out pushing a baby carriage around," she said.

Continuing on, McIntire directed everyone's attention to several residences noting that the first floor had doors that opened directly out to the street and porches on the second story, "These were taverns back then," she explained.

A large home on the corner of Main and Pearl Street was the home of the Willis family during the Revolutionary War. McIntire told the story that one evening they were wakened by gunfire. Mr. Willis joined other locals to head toward the shoreline where British troops might try to land their small boats. Mrs. Willis had to leave her sleeping children and hurry to the schoolhouse on Pearl Street to ring the bell that would warn the entire town. In her journals which are part of the museum's collection, Mrs. Willis commented on being dressed only "in my nightshirt and cap." Certainly an unspeakable condition for a woman outside her bedchamber back in the day.

Mrs. Munro was another owner of this property. She bequeathed the parcel located across the street from the residence to Mattapoisett. It is now a Mattapoisett Land Trust property open to the public with spectacular views of the harbor.

McIntire described the scope of shipbuilding along Main and Water Street that abut the harbor. She said that the deep harbor allowed for the construction of larger whaling vessels needed for the longer journeys in order to supply the demand for whale oil. In total 500 boats were built here, she said.

One of the more famous ships built in Mattapoisett was The Acushnet. It was the inspiration for Melville's Moby Dick. The first shipyard was owned by Charles Stetson in 1752 McIntire said. The last ship built here was The Wanderer. Part of its mast now rests within the walls of the museum.

On the wharves, the group gazed back up to Water Street where today the Inn at Shipyard Park continues to operate and lays claim as the oldest continuously operated inn anywhere in the country. Other homes were used as boarding house, or suppliers to the shipbuilders such as caulking and cordage.

Clifford said that in the early 1900's a group of wealthy people, mostly women, joined together to create an improvement society that was responsible for municipal trash collection, the preservation of Shipyard Park, health clinics for children, and the planting of trees. A prime mover in those efforts was one Huybertie Hamlin, a friend of the Roosevelts. Her summer home is located at Ned's Point.

On the northern corner of Cannon and Water Street stands a home that bears a plaque. That plaque was erected in memory of Francis Millet who was in his day a famous painter, writer, and sculptor. The true renaissance man was also a doctor. At his marriage to Elizabeth Merrel, Samuel Clemens was his best man McIntire stated. His would be a short life, however, as he went down with the Titanic in 1912.

As the tour slowly walked past homes that could have been built in those bygone days, McIntire said that two bearing bow roofs were reproductions, but that doesn't take away the charm of the narrow roadway. It was once called clamshell alley and most assuredly would have smelled the part.

The historic plaques on many homes in town were placed there by the Mattapoisett Historical Commission after extensive research into the origins of the structures McIntire shared.

McIntire also invited everyone to return on Thursday, June 27 at 5:30 pm for the opening of the museum's art exhibit titled "Inspiration, Time and Texture" featuring local artists from the Tri-Town area.

The Mattapoisett Historical Museum opens for the season in July. Museum hours are Fridays from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm and more information can be found at www.mattapoisettmuseum.org.

The last Healthy Tri-Town walking tour will take place in Rochester on Saturday, June 29 at 10:00 am in the Plumb Corner parking lot.

Artist Reveals Essence of Taber Statue

By Jean Perry

Marion residents are excited about the arrival of the life-sized bronze statute of its beloved beneficiary Elizabeth Taber next year, and artist Erik Durant who was commissioned to create the sculpture is just as excited to share in the creative process as he transforms an idea into the physical form of the woman who literally built the Marion we know and love today.

Durant, originally from Connecticut, joined the Navy right after high school. He attended art school soon after and received his degree at UMass Dartmouth, a school he chose for its connection to a foundry for sculpture making.

He's well known in these parts as a New Bedford resident and artist of two of the city's prominent public works of art, the Fisherman's Monument and the giant squid located outside the New Bedford Whaling Museum.

"Around New Bedford I'm kind of known as the squid guy," said Durant, who added that he was grateful to receive the commission for the Taber statue from the committee with Sippican Historical Society ties dedicated to honoring Taber with a statue planned for Bicentennial Park.

But how does one take "something that's going on up here," he said pointing to his head, "and put it out there in the field across the street in the form of an Elizabeth Taber statue?"

It's a back and forth process of positives and negatives, he said, explaining that the statue must start as a small, less detailed model and then be transferred into a larger size that produces a negative much like that of a photograph, but in 3-dimensiopnal form. What follows is another "positive" form that comes from that negative form – what Durant called a "linear motion".

"I work with people, that's what I do," he said. "That's how you start things." Which means before there was Elizabeth Taber sitting on the bench, it was someone else sitting there – a live model. And, yes, a live model in the nude. Because in order for Durant to make an accurate and detailed representation of a clothed Taber, well, he's got to see her unclothed first.

"In order to make a figure that looks right wearing clothing, [I] have to sculpt them in the nude, first."

Durant said he can tell by looking at a statue or sculpture if the artist went ahead and sculpted the clothing first.

"I can spot that from a distance," he said. There is a certain tension in the way fabric covers the body – a fold in the fabric that happens that bunches in some places and stretches in others and you'll see that in Durant's Taber as she sits clutching her pipe and book looking off towards the Town House.

"You can see her knees really clearly, and then the fabric folds correspond to what would be under there at that point," Durant said. And these details are critical for what Durant describes as the statue appearing “fully activated in the round” – or, simply stated, visually interesting from every angle.

Durant said he made sketches of versions of the Taber statue for the committee to approve, looking at Taber in both her youth and in the later stages of life.

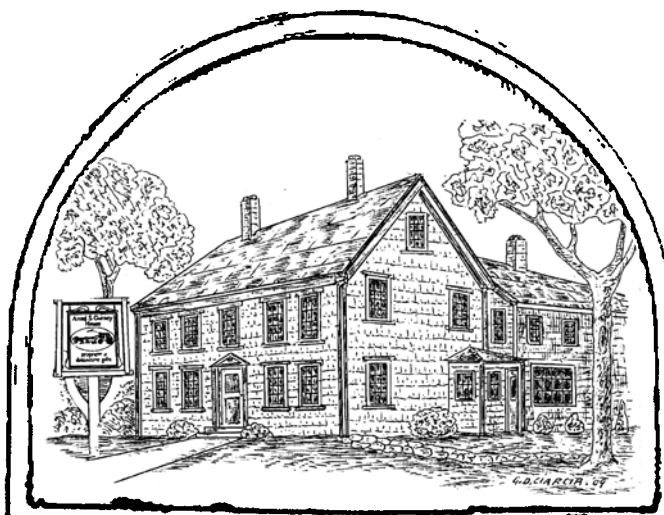

“It was decided that we would work on the older Elizabeth Taber when she returned to Marion ... so we’re looking at somebody who’s probably in her 70s or 80s,” Durant said.

The focus was on her gestures as an older female, sitting on a bench, “fairly stiff” with not having “a whole lot of dramatic motion,” as Durant put it. And Taber's gesture of feet forward, body turned, and head turned – all in three different directions – are significant, Durant said, otherwise Taber's seated form would look unnatural, straight forward, and lined up.

Durant tilted his head to the side and shifted his weight to one hip and said, "The rest of us stand around like we're waiting for a bus all the time – our bodies sort of move and switch back and forth and everything," he said. "She will be looking at the town hall with her eyes and sort of leaning and looking over at the library, [which] gives us movement." And when you look at her, he said, it's almost like perhaps you just heard something or witnessed something or like something is about to happen.

The sculpture will be extremely durable, Durant said, and Taber will retain her "French brown" bronze patina with annual maintenance and the brushing on of more wax, keeping it from turning into that "neglected green" patina.

The granite bench was selected specifically to appear more modern as Taber is honored now in more modern times, although she'll forever sit as a relic from the past - Marion's past - and honored well into the future. On the back of the granite bench will be a relief showing the five principal structures Taber gave to Marion while Taber sits scanning the landscape she influenced.

"You can really relate to her by sitting down on the bench," said Judith Rosbe from the Sippican Historical Society (SHS).

With the bench, Durant said, "One of the things that was important to me is that we're not just simply making a historical snapshot. ... There's a very special reason why this moment in time she's being recognized instead of 20 years ago. ... We are choosing to recreate her right now in his moment in time. ... She is here with us in this moment in time."

A statue often tells us more about the people commissioning the monument than the monument itself.

Rochester Family Swimming for a Cause By Marilou Newell

The Williams family of Rochester has done something quite amazing: they have raised over $6,000 for the Buzzards Bay Coalition (BBC) as Team Splash. On June 22 they, along with 276 other supporters of the BBC mission, entered the waters of the outer harbor at New Bedford's south-end and swam towards Fairhaven emerging at Fort Phoenix. This was the twenty-sixth year of the BBC's annual Buzzards Bay Swim.

This event was initiated to heighten the public's awareness of the necessity of protecting Buzzards Bay, a vital natural resource that serves a vast swarth of Massachusetts' coastline. While the BBC has worked diligently for more than 30 years protecting the bay, wetlands, and associated resource areas against over-development, nitrogen pollution, hazardous chemicals, and governmental neglect, the need to engage the community in the fight to protect it all still continues.

And that is the inspiration for the entire Williams' clan.

Mom, known to most as Rebecca, shared, "I was not a strong swimmer. I sort of relearned and improved my stroke through practice." She made swimming in the 2016 event a previous New Year's resolution and focused on making it a reality. Her husband, Roger, has been a longstanding volunteer at BBC activities, which is how Rebecca first caught the swim bug. "I learned about the swim through Roger as well as the work of the BBC." Her New Year's resolution brought her to the Gleason Family YMCA where she met Mel Dyer, her swim instructor and trainer. She credits Dyer with being instrumental in her being able to achieve her goal – just keep swimming. "It was a real win-win," she said, "... achieving my goal helps the BBC reach their goal."

Entering the water this year with Rebecca was her daughter Xan Williams.

"I grew up swimming as recreation," Xan said, "I'm more of a runner." She said that she too trained at the Y completing 38 laps each session, a distance about equal to the 1.2 mile open water swim. "It takes about 45 minutes to complete it in the pool," she confirmed, while the open water swim may take about an hour.

Previously, Xan was her mother's Kayak Safety Squad team member. The BBC encourages first-time swimmers or those who feel the need to be accompanied across the outer harbor to have a dedicated volunteer whose encouragement can't be overrated and whose emergency assistance is available, if necessary.

According to the BBC, the start of the swim coincides with the incoming tide; thereby, giving the swimmers a bit of an edge or push towards Fairhaven versus trying to stay on course fighting the outgoing pull towards the ocean. This year there was a bit of a head wind.

After the race, Rebecca reported that, "It was choppy out there; the ocean kept slapping you in the face." But the chuckle that accompanied the comment tells the bigger story - it was a major accomplishment for the mother-daughter team.

For the Williams, the goal of securing funds for the BBC is the driving force of the swim. "We are currently the top team fundraisers," Rebecca stated prior to the swim, which was confirmed after the swim was completed.

To accomplish their fundraising goal, the Williams reached out primarily to their personal contacts, family, friends, professional associates, and at least two corporate sponsors. They sent out letters telling their story and were pleased with the support they received.

The women's training and the associated sacrifice that it requires was rewarded as Rebecca completed her swim in 56 minutes and Xan made it to Fairhaven in 41.51 minutes.

And what about next year? Well for Rebecca, she's already formulating plans, "After last year's swim I thought I would call it quits, but then Xan stepped up to join me so I couldn't say NO!" She shared that both swimming and fundraising has been fun to do as a family, but, "I think we may expand our team next year. That will change things up and keep it fresh."

As an encouragement to anyone thinking about trying the event, Rebecca wants you to know, "If I can do it - you can." She said to start slowly, build up one's confidence, and of course, "Enjoy the ride," or should we say SPLASH.

Update: The final count for Team Splash was $6,350. Swimmers raised $145,000. The BBC's goal was $187,000. If that sum is achieved before July 31, an anonymous donor has pledged another $50,000.

Marion Prepares for Second 40B

Marion Planning Board

By Jean Perry

The Marion Planning Board, on June 17, talked briefly about the forthcoming 40B affordable housing development slated for land off Wareham Road that was once proposed for a solar farm. The board denied the special permit for that project, which led to a lawsuit against the Planning Board until housing developer Ken Steen snatched up the property to bring a second 40B development to Marion.

"It's essentially ... 96-units," said Planning Board Chairman Will Saltonstall. "They will all be rented ... and the ownership will be retained by the developer."

Approximately 25 percent of those units will be designated as affordable housing, but as Saltonstall pointed out, all 96 units will count toward the town's minimum 10 percent affordable housing mandate.

"Theoretically this puts us above our 10 percent," said Saltonstall.

The chairman brought up how some have questioned the possibility of a 40R rather than a 40B, with a 40R considered to be a "friendly 40B," but in order for Steen to develop a 40R there must be certain state requirements met such as proximity to public transportation and commerce.

Rochester is currently preparing for Steen's 40R development, one that will bring with it state funding to offset the increased demand on municipal services and schools.

Saltonstall said Steen has rights to the entire property in question plus two Approval Not Required (ANR) subdivided lots.

"I think he could develop a couple houses on them if he wanted to," Saltonstall said.

He described the 96 rental units, saying, "They're basically triplexes, townhome-type units" with garages available for rental apart from the units and a pool and clubhouse for residents of the development.

Planning Board member and Selectman Norm Hills said there has already been a preliminary traffic study and the project would be tied-in to town water and sewer.

"Without trying to sound too much like a villain," said board member Chris Collings, "... My personal opinion is there's still a place (for the units) for there will be a long-term need for affordable housing."

As Saltonstall pointed out, the 40B application will go before the Zoning Board of Appeals, not the Planning Board.

"Until he starts the process going ... I don't think we're going to see this again, but I just wanted people to know that it's out there and there it is," said Saltonstall. "The [Marion Affordable Housing Trust] seemed reasonably accepting of it [but] there was a lot of criticism."

Saltonstall said the town should expect about 25 additional students as a result of the 40B, with 17 of them estimated for Sippican School and the rest in junior and high school. He said the affordable units would likely go for around $1,400 and the market rate ones for around $1,800.

In the end, however, the Town of Marion would see roughly around $500,000 in permitting and water and sewer fees, said Saltonstall.

In other matters, the board is still not ready to vote on the Definitive Subdivision application for a property off Beach Street (213 Converse Road) owned by 22 Cove Street LLC, care of N. Douglas Schneider &

Associates, given that the board's peer review engineer has not yet been able to view the revised plan.

The continued public hearing was again continued until July 15 after viewing some significant revisions to the entire design of the subdivision completed that afternoon, project engineer David Davignon told the board.

Davignon presented a new letter of requested waivers, new estimate of materials, draft homeowners' association agreement, revised stormwater report that was 160 pages long, revised plans, and a landscape design plan provided by a landscape design architect.

Some of the major plan changes include the shape of the road and the removal of a downstream drainage pipe near the wetlands with a drainage/retention pond instead. Davignon provided easement layouts and the locations of houses that will be raised on columns away from the road.

"Completely different from first design," Davignon said.

The project will require a Notice of Intent filing with the Conservation Commission.

Davignon said the cover letter submitted addressed the board's engineer's comments from before and explains the new changes.

"We're going to send this back out to engineering ... and then we can take it up in a more educated fashion in a month," said Saltonstall, but he asked whether abutters' concerns about exacerbating current drainage problems at the site are addressed in the new plan.

"The rate of runoff coming off from Beach Street ... was not a decrease, it was true," said Davignon, adding that runoff swales will be installed "as far down as we can" to capture and send stormwater off in another direction.

The next meeting of the Marion Planning Board is scheduled for July 15 at 7:00 pm at the Marion Police Station.

improvements and repairs to the former Leisure Shore Marina on Brandt Island. The marina is now called Brandt Island Marina and is currently owned by David Kaiser who also owns the Mattapoissett Boat Yard and Kaiser Yachts LLC. The filing was represented by Bob Field of Field Engineering.

While the full scope of what needs to be fixed, removed, improved, completely demolished, and completely rebuilt is daunting, Kaiser believes the end result will be worth the effort. Field shared that Kaiser's plans for the Notice of Intent (NOI) filing before the commissioners that night contained grading of parking and driveway areas, systems for water containment from washdown activities, wooden pier repairs, stone bulkhead repairs, seawall repairs, and decking.

There was some discussion about the need to apply for a Chapter 91 waterways license especially for those renovations related to waterside structures. After further dialog with the Conservation Agent Liz Leidhold, Field put forth the following into the scope of the NOI: repairs and renovations to driveways and parking areas in previously disturbed areas, and repairs to a seawall, wooden pier, stone pier, decking, and water purification systems.

Before requesting a continuance, Chairman Mike King commented, "Anything you are doing there is an improvement to the resource area. ... It's going to be dramatically improved." The hearing was continued until July 8.

An NOI filed by Michael Ward, 26 Meadowbrook Lane, was also continued pending plans that could meet FEMA regulations. Field, also representing the Wards, said that the homeowners needed to construct a handicap lift to the elevated first floor living area. He pointed out that the preliminary plans called for the pouring of a solid concrete pad under the elevated residence. However, King said that concept would not meet FEMA regulations. The hearing was continued until July 8 pending plans that were in compliance with wetland regulations.

Lisa Segalas, 11 Bay Road, was represented by David Davignon of Schneider, Davignon, and Leone. Davignon described the NOI filing saying the existing cottage was to be demolished and replaced with a home on pillars. He said the new footprint would be slightly smaller, while the elevated decks would be slightly larger and that more than 50-percent of the home would be in the coastal bank. Davignon also stated that the project needed to be approved by the Zoning Board of Appeals due to the setbacks being impacted.

The project as presented received standard conditioning from the commission.

A Request for Determination of Applicability filed by Thomas Jackivicz and Pamela Pierce, 17 Third Street, also included the removal of an existing structure, a garage. The new garage, as described by Davignon, would be more than 100-feet from the coastal zone and would meet all FEMA regulations for a flood zone. The project received a negative determination of applicability.

Alexander Makkas's request for a Certificate of Compliance (CofC) was continued pending a site visit by commissioner Trevor Francis to ascertain how sediments are migrating into wetlands near Makkas' property at 16 Island View Avenue. Makkas claimed that the sediment problem began after the installation of public sewers in the beach community and that he was hesitant to try and continue with native plantings as those too would be washed away into the contiguous wetlands.

Leidhold commented that she would ask for the plantings to be done in an effort to stabilize the disturbed soils. However it was determined that a site visit prior to any further activities was warranted.

A CofC was issued to Paul Bourgeois, 10 Oakland Terrance, and to JC Engineering, Inc. for 6 Dupont Drive.

The commission went into Executive Session to discuss ongoing litigation with Daniel Craig, 4 Seabreeze Lane. In a follow-up with Town Administrator Mike Gagne, he said, "This is an interesting case." He said that an enforcement order issued by the Conservation Commission was appealed to the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) by Craig. The enforcement order was upheld by the DEP. Craig has subsequently appealed the DEP ruling, sending the case back to Superior Court.

Easy Night for ZBA

Mattapoisett Zoning Board of Appeals

By Marilou Newell

Town boards often have very long agendas with complicated petitions and applications, but every now and then they catch a break.

Such was the case on the evening of June 20 when the Mattapoisett Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) met. Sitting at the conference table on this night was Susan Akin, chairman; Ken Pacheco; Colby Rottler; Maryanne Brogan; Tony Tranfaglia; and Administrative Assistant to the Director of Inspectional Services, Robin Shufelt.

The meeting kicked off promptly at 6:00 pm.

Coming before the ZBA was William Mitchell, 5 Depot Street, who sought a Special Permit as provided in the bylaws to construct a covered porch. Mitchell explained that rotting boards around an existing side entranceway was the impetus to making more comprehensive exterior improvements. He explained that existing non-conforming set-backs would be significantly impacted by the porch. The porch addition would only mean an additional 24-inches.

By 6:10 pm the board members had concurred that the renovations would be an improvement to the structure and maybe more importantly, as Rottler stated, "it makes sense." The Special Permit was approved.

Next up was another request for a Special Permit filed by Thomas Jackivicz and Pamela Pierce, 50 Holly

Woods Road. Their request included demolition of an existing garage and the construction of a new garage. The board members were satisfied that the new structure would not impact set-backs and, given that this was part of a much larger renovation taking place on the lot to the 1959 home, was in keeping with the neighborhood and the homeowners' needs. A second floor in the garage was planned for storage only.

At 6:18 pm the board moved to approve. At 6:20 pm the meeting was adjourned.

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett ZBA is scheduled for July 18 at 6:00 pm in the Town Hall conference room.

Jake Jason's Recording-Breaking Season Stole the Show

Tri-Town's 2018-19 Year in Sports

By Nick Friar

The Tri-Town area had multiple success stories in the world of sports, though there was none bigger than the one that came out of the Cougar Cage at Old Colony.

Old Colony boys basketball finished the year 18-4 after losing to Cohasset in the Division 4 South Sectional quarter finals, though that wasn't the reason the gym was filled up on a nightly basis. It was because they were witnessing history every night that Jake Jason took the floor.

The senior wing averaged 27.3 points per game on 71 percent shooting to win his third-consecutive Mayflower Athletic Conference Small Vocational Division MVP. More importantly, he became the first male basketball player in Old Colony's history to eclipse the 2,000 point mark, setting the new school record in scoring with 2,247 points. In doing so, he became the 20th-highest scorer in Massachusetts boys basketball history, passing former NBA player Chris Herren in the process.

Jason also averaged 12.4 rebounds and two steals a night in his senior year, finishing with 1,027 boards and 136 swipes in his career.

Football made it all the way to the Div. 6 Super Bowl under head coach Justin Kogler. After a tough 27-22 battle against Bishop Stang, the then-undefeated Bulldogs went on to beat Dedham 34-14 in the semi-finals. Old Rochester then cruised past Ashland 28-6 to win the South Sectional Finals, bringing the Bulldogs record to 10-0.

Led by Tyler Noe, Dylan DeWolfe, Desmond Dias, and Cole McIntyre, Old Rochester made the trip to Gillette Stadium in Foxboro to face North Sectional champion Stoneham, whom would go on to win the Super Bowl over the Bulldogs by a score of 26-20.

Old Rochester girls basketball made a surprise run in the south sectional tournament despite the team lacking one definitive leading scorer. Led primarily by Mary Butler, who scrapped for every point and rebound, the Bulldogs went all the way to the South Sectional semi-finals after defeating Westwood 50-37 and Falmouth 40-38. Hingham would get the better of the Bulldogs in the semis, winning 52-36.

Tabor

Tabor girls hockey started the 2018-19 season strong and never looked back, cruising to a 20-2-3 record on the year. The Seawolves dominated opponents in the offensive zone, scoring six or more goals on multiple occasions throughout the season, led by Skylar Irving, Annie Berry, and Abby Newhook, along with Julia Shaunessy, Olivia O'Brien, Cindy Giandomenico, and Ashley Clark. Tabor would qualify for the New England Presidential Schools Athletic Council Tournament and fall in the first round to Phillips Andover, 4-2.

Tabor girls soccer also had a big year, finishing with a 15-2-2 record and the NEPSAC title after knocking off Thayer Academy 4-3 in penalty kicks. The University of South Carolina commit Cat Barry scored 33 goals for Tabor en route to being named the Massachusetts Girls Soccer Player of the Year. Jaydah Bedoya, a UConn commit, finished second on the team with 15 goals.

College

Tabor Academy alum Jared Shuster completed his second season at Wake Forest and is currently playing for the Orleans Red Birds in the Cape Cod League. Shuster started 12 games for the Demon Deacons and struck out

Will Hopkins dominated for Suffolk baseball in his sophomore season. The Rochester native and Old Rochester graduate hit .336 with a .421 on-base percentage. Of his 47 hits, 11 went for extra bases, including four triples. He also stole 18 bases in 39 games.

News Submission Policy

The Wanderer gladly accepts any and all news and press release items from local nonprofit organizations for publication on a weekly basis. The deadline for submission of news items is Monday at noon for publication in that week's edition. Due to the increasing number of submissions, however, publication of press material is never guaranteed. The Wanderer will make every effort to publish timely news items and announcements as the subject warrants and as often as spacing allows. All press material must be submitted by email to news@wanderer.com, and must be either in a text or Word file. We are not able to retype, correct, or hunt down information to repair incomplete press releases, and we are not able to retype or reformat posters or bulleted lists that are not in readable paragraph form. We cannot accept any handwritten material or news items via telephone, no matter how brief.

Photographs of area events and newsmakers are also accepted and encouraged. The Wanderer accepts well-lit and clearly-defined photographs for publication provided that they include a brief summary of the event or subject. We cannot return photographs. Like news items, the deadline for photos is Monday at noon, and the publication of photographs is also subject to spacing constraints and cannot be guaranteed.

All submitted copy is subject to alterations and/or condensation as space allows at the editor's discretion. All submissions become the property of The Wanderer and are assumed to be submitted for the purpose of publication. Submissions cannot be returned; therefore, please make sure to retain copies.

Ideas for features, breaking news tips, and other suggestions for the news department are welcome. Please call the News Editor with news tips and ideas at 508-758-9055. If it is after hours, please leave a message or email news@wanderer.com.

Sippican Historical Society

In 1998, the Sippican Historical Society commissioned an architectural survey of Marion's historic homes and buildings. The survey was funded one-half by the Sippican Historical Society and one-half by the Massachusetts Historical Commission. Due to the limits of funding, not all of the historic buildings were surveyed, but over 100 were catalogued and photographed. The results of the survey are in digital form on the Massachusetts Historical Commission's website and in four binders in the Sippican Historical Society's office (and at the Marion Town Clerk's office).

Marion (Old Rochester) is one of the oldest towns in the United States, and the Sippican Historical Society maintains an extensive collection of documentation on its historic buildings. The Sippican Historical Society will preview one building a week so that the residents of Marion can understand more about its unique historical architecture.

This installment features 217 Front Street - Lillard Hall. In 1926, the construction of Lillard Hall and the use of a private residence later known as Bushnell Hall represented an important step in the direction of forming a waterfront campus. Lillard Hall was dedicated on June 12, 1926 in honor of Tabor Academy's fifth headmaster. During the fall of 1927, the clock in the belfry atop Lillard Hall was dedicated by Silas Howland in the presence of his father, Clark P. Howland, Tabor Academy's first headmaster. At that time, the clock was one of only three of its size to

Read with Tabor this Summer

Into the Raging Sea by Rachel Slade has been selected by Tabor Academy as their community wide summer read. Kerry Saltonstall, Director of Communications, said "It has been some time since we have done a community read and we are excited to get back to that practice this summer. We wanted to invite our neighbors and friends to read with us."

The book is about the U.S. container ship El Faro, lost at sea with 33 souls on board during Hurricane Joaquin in 2015. "Tabor chose the book because it features thought-provoking questions about leadership, ethics, and responsibility. Also, because it is personal for us as our alumnus, Engineer Jeff Mathias '92, is a featured character in the book," said Saltonstall. Mathias was serving as the Riding Crew Supervisor when El Faro went down. The book uncovers many disturbing factors that contributed to the disaster as it unfolds a frustrating story about an event that never should have happened.

In October, the author will be visiting Tabor as their 2019 Writer in Residence. She will be on campus for one week to share how she came upon the story and researched it, as well as sharing other thoughts about being a professional writer. Slade will do a reading and book signing at Tabor on October 17 at 7:00 pm in Hoyt Hall. The event will be free and open to the public.

Reading seems to be a summer tradition and it is a great time to join with friends to learn together.

Universally Accessible Boardwalk at Osprey Marsh

Sippican Lands Trust (SLT) plans to start construction of an 1,800 foot universally accessible boardwalk at its Osprey Marsh property on Point Road in Marion later this month. This boardwalk project builds on the generous donation by members of the Smoyer/Howland family of the 20-acre Osprey Marsh property of forest and marshland on Planting Island Cove and a $38,000 grant for project design and permitting from the Town of Marion's Community Preservation Commission.

The project has been designed to minimize environmental impact and to maximize accessibility for infants in strollers, older adults, and persons with mobility impairments, including those in wheelchairs. The universally accessible boardwalk will proceed from the Osprey Marsh parking area through maritime forest, wetlands, and fragile salt marsh habitat to a viewing platform overlooking Planting Island Cove. The boardwalk and trail will be approximately a 1/3 of a mile in length and feature bump outs and unique trail features to maximize the outdoor experience.

This 1,800' universally accessible boardwalk has been designed by Peter Jensen and will be built by local contractor W.S. Bradford out of Marion. Construction is expected to last six months and will involve some challenging and complicated work over sensitive wetland habitat. Osprey Marsh will be closed during construction and visitors to Sippican Lands Trust properties are encouraged to visit other properties along Point Road including Hagemann Woods, Howland Marsh, and Peirson Woods.

Alan Harris, SLT Board President, adds “this project, which began nearly five years ago is challenging on many levels. As an organization, the board feels the challenge is worth the pay-off of creating a regionally unique trail. We all need to get outside and get connected to the natural environment. This universally accessible path will facilitate having such experiences by those with physical challenges as well as easing the way for the rest of us excited to explore the area together.”

As SLT pivots from just protecting land to getting more people out on the land, this universally accessible boardwalk represents a key component of getting people outside into nature. Increasing research shows multiple benefits of time spent outside on psychological well-being, physical health, and creativity. SLT Board Member, Diane Cook, commented "that this project is a dream come true for a population unable to travel over most of the trails in the woods and certainly none that offers an incredible experience in nature with a glorious view at the end of the trail."

Supporters, friends, and guests of the Sippican Lands Trust are invited to a groundbreaking ceremony for the project on Saturday, June 29 at 9:00 am at SLT's Osprey Marsh.

The SLT believes the Osprey Marsh Accessible Boardwalk project will serve as an important community asset and resource for all visitors to Osprey Marsh. Donations from the public will help make this boardwalk a reality and donors will be recognized at the site on a donor recognition plaque. ### Marion July 5th Fireworks

The Marion Fireworks Committee is proud to remind everyone that the Fireworks have been fully funded and are planned for July 5! We are so excited and grateful to all who helped make it happen.

Plan on bringing your blanket and taking advantage of the high tide at noon on July 5th. Food trucks will be set up by 1:00 pm on the lawn near the bath house. The food trucks will be in place until the end of the show.

As it gets closer to dusk, The Sippican Band kicks off its season with its Fourth of July concert! The band will continue to play all evening until the fireworks are finished!!

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

My dog spends lots of time chewing and licking his feet. What does this mean?

Your dog is showing signs of allergies. People with allergies tend to cough and sneeze. Dogs will lick, chew and rub.

What can my dog be allergic to and what should I do?

Your dog can be allergic to food, fleas, articles that he comes into contact with such as wool rugs, all pollen, mold, and dust that affects people. Try to keep a log of your dog's itchiness to determine if it happens all year round or if it is seasonal. Food allergies are not seasonal. Talk to you veterinarian about diet changes, medications and allergy testing to determine what may be the most helpful for your pet.

You can contact Dr. Gould at 508-758-6400 or visit our website at MattapoisettAH.com

The students from the Old Rochester Ambassador program will be on hand fundraising by selling glow sticks and novelties.

As the skies get darker, the first boom is anticipated at 9:00 pm. Please note, if the fog is heavy, we may delay the fireworks until the skies clear.

If rain is in the forecast, we will delay the event until July 6. Watch the Marion Fireworks Facebook page as well as the Facebook page for the Town of Marion for updates.

Reading and Writing Programs at MPL

Some children love to read and write – and so do we! We've created some wonderful, fun programs just for older children who love to read and write at the Mattapoisett Public Library.

Starting Wednesday, June 26 at 3:00 pm, join us for our Imagination Nation Writer's Workshop. If you are 8-12 years old with an ability to visualize what the future will bring, this is the place for you. Bring your imagination, we will provide pencils and paper, and be prepared to create science fiction stories that are out of this world! There are three additional sessions of this program on July 3, 17, and 24 and participants are encouraged to come to as many as possible.

Starting on Tuesday, July 9 at 1:00 pm our "Out of this World" Book Club begins for children ages 7 to 10. The first session will be an introduction to the book "Galaxy Zack: Hello, Nebulon". Then participants will watch a cartoon about The Jetsons. Tuesday, July 23 readers will watch a second cartoon about The Jetsons and discuss the book, focusing on how the futuristic worlds of this and the cartoons are the same and different. Finally, on July 30 we'll create pictures or 3D models of your space home or vehicle to share.

Also starting Tuesday, July 9 at 3:00 pm is our Sci-Fi Graphic Novel Book Club. In our first Sci-Fi Graphic Novel Club, we will be discussing "Zita the Spacegirl" by Ben Hatke and her epic space adventures to save her friends. Recommended for children ages 7 and up. There will be snacks and a craft.

The next session is on July 23 with Nathan Hale's

Marion Receives Age-Friendly Designation

Thanks to the efforts of the Marion COA and the Friends of the Marion COA, Marion has been designated an Age-Friendly community by AARP and enrolled in its network of similarly-named towns and cities. In Massachusetts, only 48 other communities are enrolled in the AARP network so far.

The Age-Friendly initiative is a project of AARP and the World Health Organization that launched in 2006 and has since expanded to 20 nations. The effort aims to prepare cities and towns for rapid population aging and urbanization.

According to the AARP, an Age-Friendly community is one that is safe, secure, has affordable housing, transportation options, and offers support services. As part of achieving the Age-Friendly designation from AARP, the Town of Marion was required to submit a letter of intent, accompanied by the Town's demographic profile, and a perceived action plan outlining steps to be taken to become a more livable community for everyone.

Marion's Age-Friendly Committee is currently preparing a survey which will be sent to Marion residents 55 and older this Fall. Responses to the survey will inform the Committee of areas that should be addressed to make the Town of Marion more accommodating to current and future senior citizens.

MATTREC Summer Program Offerings

Marion 4th of July Parade

The Annual Marion Fourth of July Parade is scheduled for Thursday, July 4 at 9:00 am sharp.

The Parade will form beginning at 8:00 am on the Fourth of July in the ball field behind the Marion Town House and adjacent to the Sippican School. Parade organizers will be onsite to check participants in and to line up the parade.

Trophies will be awarded for First, Second, and Third place in each category listed on the application. There is also a Best in Parade award.

Applications for participating in the parade are available at the Marion Town House or they can be submitted online at www.marionma.gov/fourth-july-parade-committee.

Applications may be hand delivered to the Marion Town House until July 3, 2019. Online applications will also be accepted until July 3, 2019. Applications will be accepted on the morning of the parade until 8:30 am. However, preregistration is preferred and will make the check-in process more streamlined.

For questions please contact the Parade Committee at 508-748-3515 or dhemphill@marionma.gov.

ORRHS Celebrates the Class of 2019

The Old Rochester Regional High School is proud to announce that 185 seniors graduated on June 1, 2019. The hard work and determination of these young scholars will not stop there as they earned themselves 662 college acceptances to 153 universities and colleges across the country. In this graduating class, 82% of the students plan to attend a 4-year college, 10% plan to attend a 2-year college, and 2% will be entering the military. Over 30% of this graduating class were members of the National Honor Society, nearly 30% of the graduates received the John and Abigail Adams Scholarship, there were three Commended Students in the 2019 National Merit Scholarship Program, and nearly 50% of the graduates received scholarships from a variety of 132 state and local organizations. Graduates will be attending institutions across New England such as Bowdoin College, Worcester

OBITUARIES

Elizabeth May (Santos) Monteiro, 89, of Danvers, formerly of Marion, died June 17, 2019 at home. She was the wife of the late Peter Monteiro, Jr. and the daughter of the late Antone and Ida (Sylvia) Santos.

She was born in New Bedford and lived in Marion for many years before moving to Danvers.

Mrs. Monteiro worked at Aerovox Corporation in New Bedford.

She was a communicant of St. Rita's Church in Marion. She enjoyed sewing, quilting, painting and gardening.

Survivors include her daughter, Betty Ann Washington of Danvers; 2 sons, David Monteiro of Revere and Douglas Monteiro of Plymouth; a sister, Jeannette Santos of Plymouth; 2 brothers, Kenneth Santos of New Bedford and John Santos of Brockton; 3 grandchildren.

Visiting hours were held on Monday, June 24, 2019 at the Chapman, Cole & Gleason Funeral Home, 2599 Cranberry Hwy., Wareham followed by her Funeral Mass at St. Rita's Church, 113 Front St., Marion. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery, Marion.

Margaret A. "Peggy" (Dunham) Cooper, 76, of Mattapoisett died Wednesday June 19, 2019 at Harbor Point at Centerville. She was the wife of Neil H. Cooper, with whom she shared 54 years of marriage.

Born in Paterson, NJ, daughter of the late William E. and Mary A. (Hallsworth) Dunham, she was raised in Fair

Lawn, NJ and resided in State College, PA and Pelham, NH before settling in Mattapoisett 35 years ago.

Peggy was an artist, teacher, wife and mother.

She enjoyed spending time painting, reading, gardening, talking about big ideas and thinking deep thoughts.

Peggy was an active member of St. Gabriel's Episcopal Church and before that St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

She was active in the Council on Aging in Mattapoisett and the local art community. As an artist Peggy focused local landscapes and landmarks. Her paintings are displayed prominently in several local residences.

Survivors include her husband; a son, Clint Cooper and his wife Megan of Mattapoisett; a daughter, Christy (Cooper) Guillotte of Mattapoisett; five grandchildren, Thomas DeBortoli, Jr. and his wife Julie, Maddy Cooper, Sam Cooper, Henry Cooper and Colin Cooper; and four great-grandchildren, Aaliah, Emily, Ceri and Brianne.

Her visiting hours were held on Saturday, June 22nd in the the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Route 6, Mattapoisett with a prayer service following. For guestbook, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com. In lieu of flowers please send a donation to St. Gabriel's Episcopal Church, 124 Front St., Marion, MA 02738.

Margaret M. (Fournier) George, 80, of Rochester, died June 21, 2019 in St. Luke's Hospital, New Bedford. She was the daughter of the late Alfonse and May (Gifford) Fournier.

She was born in New Bedford and lived in Rochester for 51 years.

Survivors include her husband Donald George, and 4 grandchildren: Courtney Gurll of Brighton; Joshua Gurll of Manchester, NH; Patrick Gurll of Sebring, FL; and Jeremy Lindsay of Wareham. She was the mother of the late Sharon Lindsay and Deborah J. George and sister of the late Ronald Fournier and Barbara Bergeron.

She was an avid Bingo Player. She was fond of hummingbirds and watching live webcams of safari animals.

Her graveside service was held on Wednesday, June 26, 2019 in Rochester Center Cemetery, Dexter Ln., Rochester. Please omit flowers.

Arrangements are by the Chapman, Cole & Gleason Funeral Home, 2599 Cranberry Hwy., Wareham.

Muriel R. (Gagnier) Foster, 72, of New Bedford succumbed to heart failure Thursday June 20, 2019 ending her courageous eleven-year battle with cancer. Muriel was an inspiration to all who knew and loved her.

Born in New Bedford, the daughter of the late Adelard and Lucinda (Pelletier) Gagnier, she lived in New Bedford and Fairhaven for most of her life.

Muriel was employed for 22 years at the Bristol County District Attorney's Office.

She was a graduate of New Bedford Vocational High School.

Muriel was strong, witty, charming, kind, caring, sensitive, funny and always willing to help someone in need. She had been an active volunteer for the American Cancer Society, and had served on the Daffodil Committee for many years. She enjoyed gardening and cooking.

She is survived by her loving sister and best friend, Terri C. Nowell; her companion, Stanley Jasinski; her cousin, Yvette Poirier Gracie; and her many friends including her colleagues from the District Attorney's Office.

New Bedford Symphony 2019-2020 Season Unveiled

The New Bedford Symphony Orchestra (NBSO) and Music Director Yaniv Dinur are pleased to announce the concert programs for the 2019-2020 season. In what has become a tradition on opening night, the NBSO kicks things off with a Mahler symphony, and in a first for the NBSO, Dinur will play and conduct Mozart from the keyboard! Also this season, classical concerts in October and April feature a matinee option, and November's classical concert has a family-friendly counterpart the same weekend. Rounding out the season are two pops performances, the popular Holiday Pops Concerts in December and All John Williams in January. Details on

Save The Terrapins in Your Backyard

Diamondback Terrapins love the coastal waters of Mattapoisett and Marion! Since 2016, the New England Coastal Wildlife Alliance (NECWA) has been studying this population of terrapins in the Southcoast area, including the towns of Mattapoisett, Marion, and Wareham. As NECWA continues to study this species, we realize that we need your help. No one knows your hometown better than you! This beautiful turtle is the only North American species that lives in brackish water, such as salt marshes and estuaries. In the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Diamondback Terrapins are classified as threatened due to habitat loss and environmental destruction.

There are many threats to Diamondback Terrapins that live in Mattapoisett, Marion, and the surrounding areas. Development in coastal areas, increases in coastal erosion, and other negative impacts of climate change have reduced the amount of suitable nesting habitat for this species. And the increase in animals that eat terrapins or predate their nests, including raccoons, skunks, and foxes, have impacted the population and reduced the number of successful nests each season.

From June through mid-July, female terrapins come out of the marshes and estuaries to lay their nests on beaches, lawns, and other sandy areas. As these females search for a suitable place to nest, they can find themselves in dangerous areas like busy roads and streets. If you see a female terrapin crossing the road, please avoid her and stop if conditions are safe for you. Move her across the road in the direction that she was heading so that she can continue on her way. Then report your sighting to the New England Coastal Wildlife Alliance (NECWA) through our website at www.necwa.org.

NECWA would love to hear about the terrapins you see this season, especially nesting females. If you

Museum of Science and More at the Mattapoissett Library

Mattapoissett Public Library continues with this year's theme of space with a special visit from the Museum of Science. On July 10, the Museum of Science will be visiting Center School on Barstow St., Mattapoissett to present their "Night Sky" program. Using their portable planetarium, the Museum of Science will take you on a tour of the solar system and beyond, and provide useful tips on how you can navigate the night sky from your own backyard. We have two sessions scheduled at 11:00 am and 12:15 pm. Space is limited to 25 participants per session and for children 6 and older. Please contact the library to sign up.

On Tuesday, July 16 at 6:30 pm, join member Roger Menard of the Astronomical Society of New England for his program, "Fly me to the Moon". He will answer questions like: where did the Moon come from, why is the Moon so large in our night sky, what is the 'man in the Moon', why do we always see only one side of the Moon, what is a Lunar eclipse, how does the Moon impact life on Earth, etc. Along the way, he will discuss facts and myths related to the Moon! Recommended for older elementary age children and their families. No registration necessary.

On Saturday, July 20 drop by the library between 10:00 am and noon for a Moon Landing Celebration. Mattapoissett Free Public Library will be celebrating the 50th anniversary of the moon landing with crafts, games and prizes, and snacks. Please allow additional time for parking since our town will be hosting their annual Harbor Days.

In addition to the above events, our library is hosting many on-going events, such as:

MOVIE REVIEW

Heat Wave

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Do the Right Thing* (1989). Starring Spike Lee and Danny Aiello. Directed by Spike Lee. Running time: 119 minutes. MPAA rating: R. At the Coolidge Corner and AMC Boston Common this weekend; also on physical and streaming media.

On June 30, Spike Lee's Do the Right Thing turns thirty. It still hasn't lost a step. Aside from some hairstyles and a few of the songs, it doesn't read at all like an '80s film. It's truly an end-of-a-decade work. In some respects it's almost experimental; some of the scenes play like short theater pieces, and the movie is full of words — debate, disputation, denunciation, or just plain shooting the breeze — yet we never question it as a work of cinema. The way cinematographer Ernest Dickerson paints with skillet-hot colors, or the way editor Barry Alexander Brown snips scenes to release our laughter as well as to propel the story, or the way Ruth E. Carter dresses the characters to sketch them for us in an instant — these and more put Lee's film, only his third, into the realm of art alongside entertainment. Its concerns are timeless and, as the film itself wearily admits, will ever be.

Nobody is really the main character of Do the Right Thing — the Bed-Stuy community itself is, it's a group portrait — but Lee picks out Mookie, played by himself, as the character who interacts with most of the others. As a delivery guy for Sal's Famous Pizzeria, Mookie sees a lot of the same faces a lot; one of the first things we see him do is direct an exasperated "Hell no" to a pair of girls who look like they want to talk to him about God, or get him to sign a petition, or something. Mookie does this as though this is far from the first time he's waved these girls away; the same is true, mostly, of his relationship with the neighborhood disabled guy Smiley (Roger Guenveur Smith). Everyone who lives or works here is by and large tired of each other, but nobody can afford to go on a vacation away from them, and it's going to be a brutally hot day. (The movie takes place on August 5, 1989, according to the newspapers we see.)

The only thread of narrative we get is the attempts of the abrasive Buggin' Out (Giancarlo Esposito) to shame Sal (Danny Aiello) into putting up photos of black celebrities alongside the Italian stars on Sal's "wall of fame." Buggin' Out's logic is that Sal's clientele is mostly black, so the decor should reflect that; like almost everyone else in the movie, he's not wrong, but that doesn't make him completely right, either. Buggin' Out's mission is debatable; the whole chatty, art-pop-colored film is. The very title has been discussed endlessly. Does Mookie, in an act of destruction that may or may not be intended to draw collective ire from flesh towards property, "do the right thing"? Lee's line has always been that white people always ask that question and black viewers never do. Put another way, does anyone here "do the right thing"? When, to paraphrase Martin Luther King, there is no dialogue but only contrapuntal monologue, and when there are two sets of rules, one for people of color and one for everyone else, it can be nearly impossible to know if there is a "right thing."

To Lee's credit, he writes dialogue (or guides his actors into improv) that allows his characters to open themselves up, justify themselves, let us see how they see themselves. Even Pino (John Turturro), Sal's rancidly bigoted son and the closest thing the movie has to a villain other than the cops, is given some breathing room to suggest why he's so angry. (His cronies back in Bensonhurst give him a hard time for serving food to black people.) In short, everyone would like to think he or she is doing the right thing; everyone is the star of his or her drama, each of which plays itself out on the stoops and egg-frying sidewalks of New York on the hottest day of summer. Lee's movie is as much about a community of psychically isolated people as about racial tension. Nobody can see past their own scrim of rage, sadness, regret. Everyone is irritable.

Radio Raheem (Bill Nunn), one of the movie's many great archetypes seldom seen in major films before, calls out the dichotomies that make up Lee's film with his Night of the Hunter parable about love knocking out hate. Originally, when Robert Mitchum delivered this, it was a hypocritical little ditty that turned out to be ironically prescient. Radio Raheem looms around the neighborhood all day toting a massive, deafening boom box (playing Public Enemy's instant classic of electric urgency "Fight the Power") but is essentially harmless; in a way he is the film's Jimmie Blacksmith figure, who ultimately becomes unhinged when the white power structure severs him from how he defines himself. Once he begins to lash out, he is doomed from that moment. But in his love/hate scene, Radio Raheem seems to be speaking hopefully.

And naively? Love, in this movie, seems short-lived, and hate persists. Mookie's baby mama Tina (Rosie Perez in a vivid debut) closes out her time in the film cussing out Mookie. The neighborhood elders Da Mayor (Ossie Davis) and Mother Sister (Ruby Dee) — whose presence as onscreen antagonists and as real-life couple always brings a fond smile to my face — seek cover together after the climactic event. They seem sobered, though not driven into each other's arms as a more conventional story would demand. Before that, we see Mother Sister screaming "Burn it down!" and not much later crying "No!" in despair over and over; there you have the opposite sides of the movie's moral coin, all in the emotional inferno of an old black woman who has seen and lived great heartache. Do the Right Thing did not turn out to be the fire this time (pundits in 1989 worried about copycat violence; number of Mookie-inspired riots: zero), but the right and wrong things it deals with haven't gone anywhere. This is, and seems more than ever like, the great American movie of the last thirty years.

Marion Garden Group Plans July Seaside Benefit

For many years The Marion Garden Group has been planting and tending window boxes, planters, and urns throughout Marion Village in an effort to beautify the village.

Building on that mission, Liz Hatch, Marion Garden Group Vice President and the inspiration behind the beautification efforts, as well as a dedicated group of volunteers have made great strides in the past year planting and tending new island gardens along with 10 new self-watering planters located throughout the town.

"I was inspired by the efforts communities such as Tiverton, RI, Osterville, and Chatham, MA have made to beautify the road islands and entrance areas and what a difference it made to their towns."

One of the major initiatives last year was the installation of a new Welcome to Marion sign on the corner of Route 6 and Front Street which greets newcomers and residents alike.

The second annual gala fundraiser will be held at the Hatch's beautiful seaside home in Marion on July 18 from 4:00 pm – 7:00 pm. Wine and hors d'oeuvres will be served. Tickets are $40 (though additional donations will be gladly accepted).

Contact Liz Hatch at: liz.hatch1@gmail.com or 617-922-5575. Or purchase at the General Store. Checks should be made out to MGG.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A change of season reinvigorates the Lamb, helping to overcome the effects of a recent slower-paced period. This is a good time to restate your feelings for that certain someone.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You might not like using your authority to correct a workplace situation, but that's what being placed in charge is all about. Besides, you have people ready to lend support if need be.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your creativity continues to run high and helps guide you to make some fine choices in the work you're doing. Keep the weekend free for those special people in your life.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Don't be surprised if you experience a sudden spurt of energy strong enough to pull you out of that recent period of indecision and put you back in charge of your own goals.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) This is a good time for Leos and Leonas to set new goals regarding health, educational choices and possible career moves. The plans you make now could be a blueprint for your future.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You might have much to offer a potential employer, but it can all be overwhelmed by too many details. Let the facts about you speak for themselves without any embellishments.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) This is a good week to balance your responsibilities to your work-a-day world with your obligations to the people in your private life. Expect news that could lead to a change in plans.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A changing attitude on the part of a once determined adversary could cause changes down the line. Be prepared to take advantage of an unexpected new opportunity.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You'd be a truly wise Sagittarius to be skeptical about an offer that doesn't answer all your questions. Even a colleague's testimonial doesn't replace facts that aren't there.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) It's a good idea to avoid spending on unnecessary purchases this week in order to keep a money reserve against a possible upcoming (but, fortunately, temporary) shortfall.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) More information is what you should demand regarding that workplace situation that recently came to light. Don't be surprised at who might turn up as one of your supporters.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You might still be in a "treading water" mode, but by midweek, a shift in your aspect favors taking a more active role in pushing for the changes you feel are necessary. Good luck.

BORN THIS WEEK: You exude a warm, caring attitude that comforts everyone who comes into your life.

It's Almost Time for The Fair

Save the Date of Saturday, July 27 for The First Congregational Church of Marion Annual Summer Fair. This is the fair everyone looks forward to each year! It happens from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm on Main Street and throughout the whole church campus.

Get an early start searching for Flea Market treasures in the many White Elephant rooms at the Community Center, 144 Front Street at the rear of the parking lot. Next, just up the stairs, head to Penny Pinchers Exchange, the church's volunteer consignment and thrift shop. You'll find some amazing bargains here.

The Children's area is outside the Penny Pinchers' door, right on Main Street. It's a delight for all ages with games, crafts, bounce house, dunk tank, putting green, henna painting, and more. Stroll down Main Street to peruse the Book Tables with an array for all ages.

Then check out the Nautical and Sports Tables to find a great selection of boat gear, bikes, sports equipment, tools, and garden items. Donations of boats, quality marine gear, and oars are being sought. Please call the church office at 508-748-1053 or email marionfirstchurch@comcast.net.

In the church yard at 28 Main Street, the steps bloom with plants of all kinds – perennials, vegetables, succulents, hanging pots, and more. At the Silent Auction, place your bid for furniture, antiques, art, gift certificates for goods and services, and special items for your home.

New this year will be a Food Court on the church lawn. Enjoy lunch outside or downstairs in the church. Savor the famous lobster rolls along with hamburgers, hot dogs, chicken salad wraps, sandwiches, and beverages. Call or email the church office (see above) to reserve your lobster roll. Find dessert at the bake table with homemade pies, cakes, cookies, candy, and more from the church's best cooks.

Parking is available at the Island Wharf public lot (Front Street across from Music Hall) and on streets surrounding the church. Come one, come all!

Fairhaven Homecoming Day

The Homecoming Fair sponsored by the Fairhaven Improvement Association will be held on Center Street in Fairhaven on Saturday, June 29 from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm. Now in its 43rd year, the annual fair has established itself as a popular summer kick-off event.

There are in excess of 170 booths filled with artisans selling their wares. Many food vendors will be offering their specialties. Live entertainment will also be present.

Admission is free and only heavy rain cancels the event. For more information email FairhavenHomecoming@gmail.com or visit the Fairhaven Improvement Association website @ fairhavenimprovement.org.

ORR Class of 1964

The Old Rochester High Class of 1964 will have their annual summer get-together on Saturday, June 29 at 12:00 pm at Ned's Point in Mattapoisett, rain or shine. All classmates, spouses, and friends are invited to bring a lawn chair and a bag lunch and reminisce, review the year past, or just enjoy the view. Members of the ORR Classes of '62 – '65 are always welcome.

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE by Stephan Pastis

Picnic on Thursday evening, August 1 from 5:30 pm to 8:30 pm at Munro Preserve adjacent to the town wharf.

Mattapoisett Land Trust and Mattapoisett Museum, the event hosts, will provide tables, chairs, tablecloths, and lighting. Bring your own food, utensils, & plates. Creatively transform your table with flowers, napkins, etc. Tables available for 4 ($120), 6 ($180), 8 ($240) or 10 ($300) diners. Buy a table and invite your friends or get your friends to pitch-in for a fun and memorable event for the community. Space is limited – buy a table while they last! For tickets, call Mattapoisett Museum at 508-758-2844 or visit the Town Wharf General Store, 10 Water Street. Make plans now to join us for this festive memorable evening.

Donate your Used Books

It's time to clean your shelves of your used books to make way for the new ones you'll be buying at the Friends of the Mattapoisett Library's annual book sale. We're looking for good-quality hardcover and paperback books, audio and video tapes, DVDs, children's books and puzzles. Please, no periodicals, encyclopedias, or textbooks. Donations can be left at the circulation desk during business hours. The Friends of the Mattapoisett Library is a non-profit, 501(c)3 corporation that serves the library's needs. We provide a number of museum passes annually; support the summer Children's Programs, and others by request; and serve to provide the library and its staff with wants and needs as they arise. Our funding comes from our small membership fees and our book sales.

The book sale will be held in the Meeting Room at the Mattapoisett Free Public Library, 7 Barstow Street, July 18 from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm for members only, and July 19 & July 20 from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. Membership forms can be found at the library, or through the library's website at MattapoisettLibrary.org. Volunteers are always welcome.

ORR Class of '74 Reunion

The Old Rochester Regional Class of '74 will hold their 45th reunion on Saturday, July 20 from 6:00 pm to midnight at the Reservation Golf Club in Mattapoisett. Please contact Betsy Horrocks-DiVeglia at diveglia@gmail.com if you have not received an invitation or you have had an address change.

Annual Marion Town Party

The Annual Marion Town Party will be held on Saturday, August 24 (rain date is Sunday, August 25) on the grounds of the Marion Town House, 2 Spring Street. Festivities begin at 4:00 pm.

Marion Firefighters Association will partner with the Marion Harbormaster Department. All proceeds are for local community and departmental needs.

Food, drinks, music, and more fun! A great night for the entire family!

Once again organizers are seeking corporate sponsors. We will have different levels of sponsorship. Also, we will be selling advertising space in the Town Party booklet. This is a great opportunity for local businesses to get the word out and advertise their businesses.

Donations from the community are needed to help underwrite the event. Food, services, cash, or any other in-kind donation would be greatly appreciated. All contributions are tax deductible. Please "Like" our Facebook page – Marion Town Party.

For further information, or to make a donation, please contact: Chris Berg at 508-776-1615, Steve Gonsalves at 508-264-5852, or Donna Hemphill at 508-748-3515, email to mariontownparty@gmail.com, or you may send a check (made out to Town of Marion) to the Marion Town House, c/o Marion Town Party, 2 Spring Street, Marion, Massachusetts, 02738.

Rochester Historical Society is Turning 50

The Rochester Historical Society is sponsoring a 50th Anniversary / Reunion celebration on Saturday, September 14 at the Rochester COA, 67 Dexters Lane, Rochester from 11:00 am – 2:00 pm.

a quaint village atmosphere have made it a seasonal haven for over a century. For the last 22 years, though, Marion has attracted crowds each July for quite a different reason: its music. Since 1997, Marion has been home to the Buzzards Bay Musicfest, a multi-day concert series featuring some of the world's finest and most accomplished musicians.

The Musicfest's original concept was based on the remarkable success of the Sunflower Music Festival, as many of the nationally recognized artists involved in that Topeka, Kansas festival expressed interest in locating a similar event in the Cape Cod area. After identifying the outstanding location of Tabor Academy - with its excellent Performing Arts Center - as well as host families to house the artists, a steering committee from Marion and the surrounding area organized and incorporated the Buzzards Bay Musicfest, Inc. The articles of incorporation include three fundamental goals: to produce and present annual festivals of professional orchestra concerts & chamber music programs of the highest quality possible, to add to the cultural and educational life of the community and surrounding region through performances and educational activities, and to stimulate interest in and support for the arts and make outstanding presentations available for both residents and visitors to the Buzzards Bay and Cape Cod areas, as well as throughout the region.

By design, all concerts are free. It was the mission of the Musicfest's founding members to provide an extraordinary opportunity for cultural enrichment to the public -- without cost. Totally underwritten by its Founding Board members for the Musicfest's initial seasons, the size and scope of the presentations have grown, and a number of generous supporters have enabled it to continue for 23 years. While the Buzzards Bay Musicfest Foundation provides a small percentage of the festival's operating budget, the vast majority of funding comes from donations. In past years, a whopping 93% of the Musicfest's funding came from individual donations and small grants. Staged at Tabor Academy's Fireman Center, the series opens and closes with orchestral concerts, with two chamber music concerts, and a jazz performance held in-between. A highlight of the festival is the Open Rehearsal, a unique opportunity for young, old, and aspiring musicians. This event provides, for many people, their first classical music experience; it includes a post-rehearsal meet & greet session with the Musicfest's Guest Conductor, Antony Walker, as well as its many distinguished performers, and the Artistic Director, Charles Stegeman. These gifted musicians have presented hundreds of works in a variety of styles and ensembles, ranging from chamber music duos and trios to full orchestra. Each year brings new works from a variety of composers. This year's selections will include works by Bach, Mozart, Mendelssohn, Spohr, Dohnanyi, Ligeti, Debussy, Dvorak, Vivaldi, Grieg, and Brahms.

With each season, the Musicfest continues to grow and expand its range. Four years ago, a performance by the sensational Sean Jones Quartet was added to the concert series, a complement to the classical variety of the Musicfest's traditional offerings. This year's return of the BBMF ten-piece ensemble Swing Band in "A Tribute to Duke Ellington", under the leadership of Phil Sanborn is bound to be a memorable event.

The 2019 BBMF concert series is pleased to announce Antony Walker as Guest Conductor. Walker is the Music Director of Pittsburgh Opera and Artistic Director of Washington Concert Opera in D.C. Since making his debut in Sydney, Australia in 1992, Maestro Walker has conducted over 100 operas, as well as large scale choral orchestra/symphonic works with companies and orchestras in Australia, the U.S., Asia, the UK, and Europe. He is the founding Artistic Director and now Conductor Emeritus of the award-winning Pinchgut Opera in Sydney and has recorded over 40 CDs, many of which are complete rarely performed operas, on ABC Classics.

The 2019 Buzzards Bay Musicfest begins with its Open Rehearsal for All (children welcome with accompanying adult), to be held on Wednesday, July 10 at 2:30 pm. Orchestral performances will be held Wednesday, July 10th at 8 pm and Sunday, July 14 at 2 pm. Chamber music performances will be held Thursday, July 11 and Saturday, July 13 at 8 pm. The BBMF Swing Band performance will be held Friday, July 12 at 8 pm. For

A Powerful Prayer to the Holy Spirit

Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, who light all roads so I can attain my goals, you who give me the divine gifts to forgive and forget all evil against me, in this short prayer to thank you for all things and confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. Say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. The favor requested will be granted. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted. Don't mention the favor. Only your initials shall appear at the bottom. E.A.L.

Rules to enter: One photo per person, photo size should be 5x7, color or B&W, original photo – not photo shopped, not matted or framed. Please write the following on back of photo: name of person submitting, address, phone number, age bracket i.e. Youth, 18 and under, or Adult, 19 and over, and location of photograph.

All photographs must be received by August

1. The photographs will be on display at the Rochester Historical Society and Land Trust booths at the Country Fair in August. Voting will be by Fair attendees and voting will end at 1:00 pm on Sunday, August 11.

Prizes will be awarded for top 3 winners in each group (adult and youth). First place $75, second place $50, third place $25. All photos will remain property of the Rochester Historical Society / Rochester Land Trust.

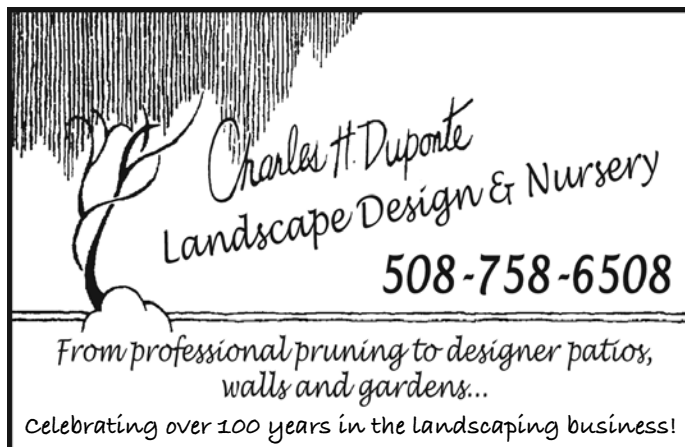

Mail your entries to RHS, P.O. Box 322, Rochester, MA 02770. Any questions, contact rochesterhistoricalsociety@gmail.com

Mattapoisett Census/Dog Licensing

The Town of Mattapoisett mailed out their 2019 Census forms in January. If you have not returned your form yet, please do so as soon as possible. According to Massachusetts General Laws, if you fail to return your census form your voter status may be changed to inactive. On the bottom of the census is a form for dog licensing. If you enclose a payment, a current rabies certificate and a self-addressed stamped envelope, your dog license will be mailed to you. Dogs must be licensed on or before March 31, 2019. If you did not receive a census form in the mail, please contact the Town Clerk's Office at 508-758-4100 X 2.

Friends of the Mattapoisett Council on Aging

The Friends of the Mattapoisett Council on Aging (FOTMCOA), a non-profit, non-governmental group, has been aiding COA programs and supplementing the needs of senior citizens in the community for many years. During that time, the FOTMCOA has purchased furnishings, appliances, and televisions that the COA has used in its social rooms for the benefit of seniors frequenting the COA.

From professional pruning to designer patios, walls and gardens...

Celebrating over 100 years in the landscaping business!

In the community, the FOTMCOA has provided financial support to seniors in need of such items as a new refrigerator or kitchen stove.

The group also sponsors the monthly COA newsletter "Seasonings," as well as hosting various special event luncheons throughout the year giving seniors the opportunity met up with other seniors for a bit of fun and food, social emotional support enriching the lives of Mattapoisett's senior population.

The fundraising work of the FOTMCOA supports COA programs, education, and other needs for which public funds are either not available or need supplementing.

Due to a decrease in membership, new members are now urgently needed to carry on the mission of the FOTMCOA.

Can you help? If you can share an hour once a month to attend the FOTMCOA meeting or wish to assist in any way possible, please contact Anne Bartnowski at 508-758-4603 or email at annebartswife@yahoo.com.

Friendly Visitor Program

The Friendly Visitor Program of the Marion COA seeks to maximize independence and enrich the quality of life for isolated seniors within the community. The program provides screened and trained volunteers to visit seniors in their homes. Visitors support seniors through weekly contact, providing social support, and a connection to the community. All volunteers are screened through a CORI (Criminal History Systems Board) check. For more information, please contact Linda Aguiar at 508 748-3570.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

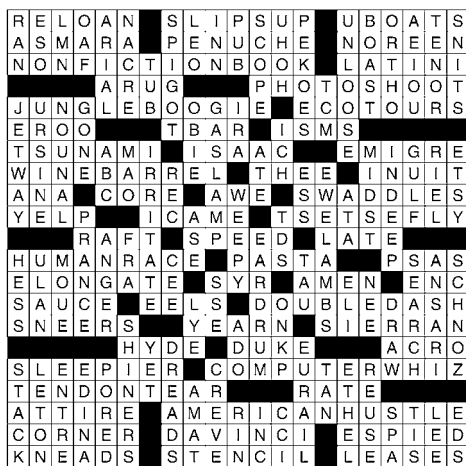

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark

In the June 20, 2019 edition the Aardvark was on page 17!
